Student Handbook Introduction

Welcome to Georgia Highlands College! All of us, your faculty, staff and fellow students, are glad that you are here. We all want your experience at Georgia Highlands College to be a good one. So let’s take the first step...scan all the information included in this student handbook. This document contains many of the keys to success during your time at GHC. We ask that you also take one other step. Please don’t stop at reading the handbook...utilize it! This information will not be very useful if you simply read it but never apply it to your studies at GHC. We’re here because of you. We sincerely want you to succeed and we’re committed to your success. The handbook presents valuable information so that you may get to know the college better; now let us know you better. Be engaged in your learning. Studies have shown that students who participate in at least one campus activity are more likely to be successful in their college.

Georgia Highlands embraces its responsibility to foster an environment of respect and understanding among all individuals and groups. The college welcomes everyone to become a participating member of the campus community, regardless of race, ethnicity, national origin, religious or political beliefs, gender, age, sexual orientation, economic status, physical or mental abilities or any other distinction.

In order to preserve this atmosphere of free thought, Georgia Highlands is committed to the prevention of bigotry, prejudice, expressions of hatred and any behaviors that infringe upon individual rights. Abuse or harassment, whether verbal, physical, or psychological, against anyone on the campuses of Georgia Highlands College, is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

No matter the location – Floyd, Heritage Hall, Cartersville, Marietta, Paulding or Douglas - all students and employees of Georgia Highlands College should dedicate themselves to the defense and implementation of these principles as core values of the college’s goals and mission.
Academic Guidelines

Attending Class

GHC does not have a uniform attendance policy; however, students should make every effort to attend every class meeting. Since classes and instructors differ greatly, you should be certain to understand the attendance requirements for each course you take. Studies have shown that class absences lead to lower grades.

Health and Wellness Services

Georgia Highlands College, being a nonresidential, commuter institution, does not maintain complete health services on any campus locations. Students are expected to make arrangements for their own health care through area medical resources. Limited first-aid kits are available in a number of departmental offices across the campuses, with signage marking those locations. Emergency automated external defibrillator units are also available in several locations across campuses, with signage marking those locations.

Students attending the Marietta site may elect to pay the health services fee to SPSU in order to have access to those services provided by SPSU.

Because student health directly affects student success in college, Georgia Highlands College encourages students to participate in wellness activities. The Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation offers a broad range of courses dealing with health and wellness issues. On the Floyd Campus, a fitness lab, gymnasium, fitness trail, tennis courts, soccer field and other facilities are also available for student use.

Students attending the Marietta or Paulding sites or the Cartersville campus may elect to pay the student recreation fee of $51 per semester to Southern Poly that will allow them to use SPSU’s new state-of-the-art Recreation and Wellness Center. Students should go to the SPSU business office and identify themselves as a GHC student. Once you have paid the fee, take your receipt to the Recreation Center where you will receive a sticker for your GHC student ID card giving you access to the facility.

Housing

Georgia Highlands College does not provide residential housing on its campuses. However, students who attend the Marietta site at Southern Polytechnic State University have the option of on-campus housing through the host institution. These housing agreements are made independently by each student with those institutions or their residential management company and are not monitored or coordinated by Georgia Highlands College in any way.

Library

www.highlands.edu/library/

The Georgia Highlands College library has access to libraries located at five sites, which support the college’s academic and professional programs. Their combined collections of print volumes, audiovisual materials and thousands of electronic titles cover a wide subject range including the fine arts, biomedical and physical sciences, humanities, sign language and social sciences.

The online catalog lists the large majority of items in the libraries’ collections. The coverage of holdings varies from one library to another. This catalog identifies the books, videos, and journals that the institution owns. GALILEO, a statewide online database that provides access to thousands of electronic journals through the Internet, is another rich resource for the Georgia Highlands College community.

The main library system consists of the Floyd Campus library and the Cartersville Campus library. Students at the Marietta site may use the library at the Southern Polytechnic State University Library.

In addition to providing users with an array of informational, instructional and research resources, through cooperative agreements users also have access to additional collections and services available from the University System libraries.

Student Success Centers

The Georgia Highlands Success Center is designed to help new and returning students succeed in their chosen college curriculum and help them improve their academic skills through one-on-one tutoring, advising and accurate placement through testing. The Student Success Center is also available to students to help them identify college resources that will aid them in their college experience. The Student Success Center is designed to accommodate students on all campuses through online activities, personal contact, or both.

Academic Advising

www.highlands.edu/advising

Georgia Highlands offers many opportunities for advising and students should consult an advisor every term before registering. The site directors at each site of the college are advisors, for instance. In addition, a list of advising specialists for each academic division is available at the link above. Students at the Floyd campus may visit the advising office in W-201 every weekday day except Wednesday, when the advising generalist is at the Cartersville campus in the Hub. Early Bird advising is held every term at each site to provide walk-in help with long-term academic planning toward degree completion or transfer to a four-year college. Students who need advising assistance can use the methods listed here or e-mail advising@highlands.edu or contact 706-802-5013.

Assessment Center

www.highlands.edu/academics/academicaffairs/success/assessment/

The Assessment Center is located inside the library on the Floyd Campus and in room 113 on the Cartersville Campus. Both centers administer Compass Placement and Exit Tests, the College Board On-Campus SAT Test, the Regents’ Test, some independent study tests and many other assessments as needed. The centers’ general hours of operation are from 8:00 a.m.–5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8:00 a.m.–12:00 p.m. Friday. Test dates and times can be found on the GHC testing web pages (link shown above).

Tutorial Support

www.highlands.edu/academics/academicaffairs/success/tutorial/

For those days when thinking alone is just too hard! The Tutorial Centers provide one-to-one tutorials in areas of math, English, reading, research, and occasionally science and Spanish. The Centers also provide information and practice for standardized tests, assistance with computer skills, workshops in special areas of study, and online tutorials in English and math. The Centers attempt to address the needs of day and evening students by providing hours that accommodate both. The hours are posted throughout the school, emailed to faculty and students, and made available on the Tutorial Center website.

The Rome and Cartersville Centers are located in the libraries of each institution. The Marietta Center is located in the conference room of the GHC offices in the D building. Students on other campuses are encouraged to utilize the tutorial services offered by the host school or to check with the site director for information on where to go for tutoring.

It is the purpose of the Georgia Highlands Tutorial Centers to help students succeed in their chosen college curriculum and help them improve their academic skills. Tutors do not grade papers or in any way substitute for classroom instruction, and course instructors provide the standard for grading. Instructors serve as a referral source for the Tutorial Centers; however, students are also encouraged to drop by. The Tutorial Centers welcome all students.

Student Life

www.highlands.edu/campuslife/life/index.htm

The Office of Student Life seeks to develop the Georgia Highlands College student body through a series of co-curricular activities that promote experiential learning, leadership, wellness, volunteerism, and an appreciation of the arts. The OSL encourages and provides student involvement opportunities to complement the academic programs of study and to enhance the overall college experience for all GHC students.

The Office of Student Life has permanent locations on both the Floyd and Cartersville campuses. The Office of Student Life on the Floyd Campus also houses the offices for student publications, student governance and new student orientation.

All programs, events and functions coordinated by the Office of Student Life are funded by the student activity fee that all students pay each semester. For this reason, most programs and events available during the course of the semester are FREE for all students to attend and/or participate in.

The OSL coordinates the forming of clubs and organizations by students and provides resources for those groups as they sponsor a wide variety of programs and events. A list of available student organizations is provided in this handbook. Any GHC student at the Marietta site may also join and participate in any of the registered and recognized clubs and organizations at Southern Poly. GHC students must meet any regular requirements or criteria for joining any group, as well as any membership dues required of regular members.

A current calendar of events and programs for the Floyd, Heritage Hall, Cartersville, Paulding and Douglas campuses can be found online at the Campus Life Calendar at www.highlands.edu/cgi-bin/campuscalendar/calendar.cgi or by contacting the OSL at 706-295-6363 (Floyd) or 678-872-8411 (Cartersville).

Student Governance

The Student Engagement Council is composed of student and faculty/staff representatives who work together for the betterment of the student body and its interests. The student representatives of the SEC are the designated representatives (officers) from all the student clubs and organizations at all campuses; plus a limited number of unaffiliated student representative slots called student-at-large positions. Students interested in serving in an at-large position should contact the Office of Student Life for an application. Although the SEC includes representatives from the faculty and staff, a student representative serves as chairperson of the SEC and is selected by the other council members.

The primary purpose of the SEC is to serve as the voice of the student body and act as a liaison between students and college administration in order to help formulate just and proper regulations pertaining to student government and to assist those persons designated to enforce the regulations. The SEC operates under the Constitution of the Student Body of Georgia Highlands College. The SEC also assists the Office of Student Life with its activities and events in a manner that strives to result in the greatest possible advantage and satisfaction of all students, both as individuals and as part of the student body as a whole. The SEC also operates as the student activity fee budget committee that determines how the collected student activity fee monies are to be allocated for the upcoming year.

Students also have the opportunity to serve on several institutional committees to assist faculty and staff in the setting, review and discussion of college policies and procedures. Committees available for student representation and participation include the following:

- Student Affairs Committee
• Student Judicial Committee
• Technology Committee
• Affirmative Action Committee
  Students interested in serving on an institutional committee should contact the Office of Student Life.

Student Clubs & Organizations

A well-rounded, integrated program of student activities is provided through student organizations. Various clubs and organizations have been established on campus for students with similar purposes and interests. These groups include scholastic honors, academic departmental groups, student leadership, student media and special interest groups.

Membership in all groups is open to all students; however some may require additional criteria for joining. Some groups operate primarily on one campus location, while others may operate on multiple campuses. A student at any campus or instruction site is eligible to join any group, regardless of whether the organization is based at that student’s primary campus.

Students interested in joining any of the established groups should contact the club advisor for more information. Club Round-Up days are held at the beginning of both fall and spring semesters on the Floyd and Cartersville campuses as an opportunity for students to learn more about the groups.

Any GHC student attending the Marietta site may join and participate in any of the registered and recognized clubs and organizations at SPSU. GHC students must meet any regular requirements or criteria for joining these groups, as well as paying any membership dues required of regular members. Students at the Marietta site may contact the SPSU Office of Student Activities for more information.

If you do not see a group that interests you, the Office of Student Life encourages students to form new organizations at any time. Student Grievances

Definition

The purpose of this policy is to set out the guidelines and standards for the filing of a formal grievance by a student against a faculty or staff member. A grievance may arise out of a decision reached or action taken in the course of official duty by a member of the faculty or staff. Any student has the right to file a grievance. The grievance policy is applicable to situations not covered by the college’s academic integrity policy, grade appeals policy or sexual harassment policy.

Procedures

Prior to the filing of a formal grievance, a student has the right to engage in informal discourse or negotiation privately with the faculty or staff member, or the immediate supervisor of the staff member or division chair of the faculty member. If this avenue has been exhausted without providing a satisfactory conclusion, and the student desires to file a formal grievance against a faculty or staff member, the following course of action should be taken:

A. The student must attempt to resolve the matter with the faculty or staff member involved by making an appointment with the faculty or staff member to discuss the problem. Substantiating data and examples illustrating the problem should be presented in writing by the student.
B. If the student and faculty or staff member fail to resolve the matter, the student may request the division chairperson of the faculty member or immediate supervisor of the staff member to become involved in the proceedings. Such a request should be made in writing to the chairperson or supervisor. The chairperson or supervisor should inform the student of receipt of the request within five working days. The conference itself should be held within fifteen working days of receipt of the written request from the student.
C. If either party is not satisfied with the results of the conference, either party may appeal in writing to the appropriate vice president. In the case of a faculty member, this individual would be the vice president for academic affairs. In the case of a staff member, this individual would be either the vice president for finance or the vice president for student services. This individual will meet with the student and the faculty or staff member together and attempt to resolve the problem. All documentation should be forwarded to the appropriate vice president. The appropriate vice president should inform the student of receipt of the request within five working days. The conference itself should be held within fifteen working days of receipt of the written request from the student.
D. If mutual satisfaction is not reached following this conference, either party may appeal in writing to the president of the college, whose decision will be final. All documentation should be forwarded to the president.
E. If the grievance is with a division chairperson or staff supervisor, the student may appeal in writing directly to the appropriate vice president. If the grievance is with a vice president, the student may appeal in writing directly to the president of the college.
This Student Rights and Responsibilities document was developed to promote an atmosphere conducive to learning and personal growth. As a basic framework, Georgia Highlands College students are guaranteed the rights, privileges, freedoms and responsibilities granted to United States citizens. Students are expected to abide by all local, state and federal laws as well as college policies. Alleged violations of laws may be referred to the appropriate authorities. Violation of law may also result in action by the college.

Beyond the general rights and responsibilities of citizenship, Georgia Highlands College has developed an Academic Integrity Code and a Student Code of Conduct to guide students as citizens of the academic community. The discipline process supports the educational mission of the college. Its sanctions are designed to educate the student and maintain an atmosphere for learning. For example, sanctions may include required community service designed both to promote learning and to make restitution for damages that might have occurred. The purposes of the disciplinary process include the following:

- Protecting relevant legal rights of students
- Facilitating and encouraging respect for campus governance and regulations
- Developing, disseminating, interpreting and enforcing campus regulations

In cases that involve actions or misconduct that would cause a student or students to be subjected to disciplinary sanctions, the student(s) will have the right to due process as accorded in the U.S. Constitution, the Constitution of Georgia, and all applicable laws.

Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity Code

General Information

Georgia Highlands College has developed a code of conduct to guide students and student organizations in participating in the academic community. This Student Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity Code outlines the behaviors and actions that are prohibited and outlines the procedures for adjudicating them.

Georgia Highlands College seeks to promote and ensure academic integrity on its campuses. Adherence to the principles of academic integrity insures students are provided opportunities that foster their academic growth. Students are expected to complete all work without cheating, lying, plagiarizing, stealing or giving unauthorized assistance. Students with questions about any of these policies or definitions should seek clarification from an instructor, division chair, director of student life, or the vice president for academic affairs. Members of the college community are expected to be familiar with the Academic Integrity Code and to cooperate upon enforcement. Faculty will take all appropriate steps to inform students of academic integrity principles, including all permissible as well as prohibited acts.

The Academic Integrity Code applies to all academic work, including, but not limited to, exams, tests, quizzes, papers, reports, presentations, lab work, artwork, experiments or any other effort that would be used in assessing the student's grade. Work may be in written, oral, digital or electronic form.

Students or organizations who are charged with violating the Code of Conduct and/or Academic Integrity Code are entitled to a fair hearing in which the accused will be allowed to speak in his/her defense and to call witnesses on his/her behalf. The procedures outlined in the code are not bound to the standards of a court of law. Instead, in adjudication of such cases, the hearing officer or panel will decide the case based on a standard of preponderance of evidence, requiring a conclusion that the breach of the code more likely occurred than not. This means that the evidence to suggest a violation occurred must outweigh the evidence to suggest the violation did not occur. Evidence can include, but is not limited to, witness statements, admissions, physical evidence or observation.

To determine whether a student organization is responsible for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct or Academic Integrity Code, all circumstances will be considered, including, but not limited to: 1) whether the misconduct was committed by one or more members of the organization; 2) whether any officers of the organization had prior knowledge of the misconduct; 3) whether organization funds were used; 4) whether the misconduct occurred as a result of an organization-sponsored function; and 5) whether members of the organization misrepresented the details of the incident to institutional or legal authorities.

Speculation and opinions should not be included. The complaint will be presented to the student(s) so accused. The faculty member must also state the recommended sanction for the offense on this same form.

The director of student life coordinates the student disciplinary process for the college. The academic disciplinary process has informal and formal resolution methods, as well as administrative and hearing elements. Students charged with violation(s) of the Academic Integrity Code will be advised in detail of their rights and procedures for adjudication.

JUDICIAL PROCESS – CODE OF CONDUCT

If the director of student life or the assigned staff designee investigating the case feels there may have been a violation of a conduct regulation and there is sufficient reason to proceed with the judicial process, he/she will notify the student or organization of the charges in writing. That notification will specify when and where the alleged violation occurred, the alleged violation(s), and the date and time of a scheduled appointment to discuss the situation.

The purpose of the meeting is to insure that the student or organization is familiar with the judicial process and the Student Code of Conduct in order to accurately prepare and present a response to the charge(s). At any point throughout the judicial process a student or organization is allowed to have an advisor as a resource, however the advisor is not permitted to speak on the student’s behalf. Prior violations of the Student Code of Conduct can only be considered when discussing sanctions once it is determined there was a conduct violation.

At this initial meeting, the student or organization will:

1. Be advised of the right to decline making any statements or answering questions and, that in doing so, no assumption to responsibility will be drawn.
2. Be advised of the pending charges and the report submitted.
3. Be informed on the Student Code of Conduct and its adjudication process, or referred to where a copy may be obtained.
4. Be informed of judicial procedures through which charges are resolved.
5. Be allowed to read any and all information regarding the original complaint.
6. Have the opportunity to share any pertinent information regarding the original complaint.

While meeting with the student or organization, the staff member will determine which, if any, of the alleged charge(s) are to be resolved through the judicial process and inform the student or organization of the choice of processes that can be chosen: 1) informal resolution, or 2) formal resolution. The formal resolution process can come in the form of an administrative hearing or a panel hearing.

1. Informal Resolution
   For a case to be resolved via the informal resolution process, the student or organization must:
   A. Accept responsibility for the alleged violation(s)
   B. Agree with the sanctions recommended by the director or staff designee
   C. An informal resolution may take place during the initial meeting, if the student chooses to do so.

2. Formal Resolution
   If a student or organization does not accept responsibility for the alleged violation, does not agree with the recommended sanction, or would prefer the case be resolved through a formal resolution process, then the accused student or organization may select between 1) an administrative hearing, or 2) a panel hearing. The director or staff member handling the case always reserves the right to have a case heard by a disciplinary panel if he/she believes it to be necessary, including if the student or organization fails to show up for a scheduled meeting to discuss the situation.

JUDICIAL PROCESS – ACADEMIC INTEGRITY CODE

1. Informal Resolution Procedure
   All academic-related infractions or disorderly behavior in an academic class may be resolved by the instructor via the informal resolution procedure. Once the alleged violation has been reported or discovered, the faculty member shall inform the student of the allegation of academic misconduct and schedule a meeting with the student to discuss the allegation in private. The faculty member may choose a neutral party to facilitate this meeting. The initial meeting should be scheduled within three (3) working days of discovery or reporting of the incident.

   The faculty member and the student shall complete the “Academic Dishonesty Discussion Checklist” and the “Academic Misconduct Incident Report” together at this initial meeting. For a case to be resolved via the informal resolution process, the student or organization must:
   A. Accept responsibility for the alleged violation(s)
   B. Agree with the sanctions recommended by the faculty member
   C. An informal resolution may take place during the initial meeting, if the student chooses to do so.

   If no resolution is agreed upon or the student does not participate in the informal resolution procedure, the matter will proceed to the formal resolution process. The student involved may not plead “no contest” (a plea which does not admit responsibility but which accepts a particular penalty).

   The faculty member shall provide the student with a completed copy of the Academic Misconduct Report. The report must be submitted to the director of student life within three (3) working days of the meeting. The director of student life will review the judicial records of the student involved in the incident. If previous Academic Misconduct Student Reports are on file, the director may contact the student to begin the formal resolution procedure.
The student has five (5) working days from the meeting to rescind the agreement mentioned above. A written statement of rescission must be submitted to the director of student life. If a statement of rescission is submitted, the case will be processed through the formal resolution process.

2. Formal Resolution Procedure
   The formal resolution process is coordinated by the director of student life and includes both administrative and hearing elements. The faculty member shall complete the Incident Report as stated above and file it with the director of student life within ten (10) working days of the discovery or report of the alleged incident. The director of student life shall notify the student of the allegations and a pre-hearing conference shall be scheduled with the student. The student may at this time request to have an administrative hearing or to go before a hearing panel for the alleged violation(s). In cases involving more than one student, all students will be treated individually with respect to their alleged involvement in the incident. All students involved may elect to have a common hearing.

FORMAL RESOLUTION PROCEDURAL RIGHTS – Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity Code
The student shall be made aware, in writing, of any complaint filed against him/her at least three (3) working days prior to a hearing. Notice shall include time, date, and location of hearing, nature of the allegations and names of witnesses scheduled to appear. Both parties shall have the following rights in the hearing process:

- The right to request, for cause, that up to two members from the hearing panel pool not hear the case in panel hearings. Those so identified will not hear the case by removal from panel selection.
- The right to request, for cause, that an appointed administrator not hear the case in administrative hearings. Each defendant is permitted to do this once. If after requesting a removal for cause the defendant is not satisfied with the selected administrator, the case will automatically go to a hearing panel.

- The right to question the defendant
- The right to present evidence
- The right to call witnesses
- The right to ask questions of witnesses
- The right to remain silent and have no inference of responsibility drawn from such silence
- The right to appeal as described in the college's procedures
- The right to be informed of the decision reached at the hearing
- The right to attend classes and college functions until a decision is rendered (Exceptions: physical or emotional well being of the defendant or complainant is endangered; the general safety and well-being of members of the college community are at risk; the educational process of others would be significantly disrupted; and personal or college property is in jeopardy. The president or designee shall make such exceptions

HEARING COMPOSITION
Code of Conduct
In administrative hearings, no administrator who has had personal involvement or a special interest in the case may serve as the presiding administrator hearing a case. For panel hearings, the hearing panel will have three (3) members randomly selected from the judicial pool. The panel may be all students, all faculty/staff members or any combination of both. The accused student or organization may request which type combination of panel he/she/it wishes to have.

A pool of trained students, faculty and staff will be created to provide members for hearing panels. All members will be trained in due process, the educational nature of the process and disciplinary sanctions. Student members of the hearing panel pool shall be appointed by the director of student life upon recommendation by the Student Engagement Council, and must not be on disciplinary probation at the time of application/nomination.

Once selected, the student panel members must maintain the 2.50 GPA and not be on disciplinary probation. Students will serve a one-year appointed term. Students in good standing may be reappointed for successive one-year terms not to exceed two terms.

Faculty and staff members of the hearing panel pool shall be appointed by the president upon recommendation of the vice-presidents to serve staggered two-year terms.

Academic Integrity Code
For an administrative hearing, the matter will be referred to an academic division chair from a division different from that in which the alleged infraction occurred. No administrator who has had personal involvement or a special interest in the case may serve as the administrator hearing a case.

Each hearing panel will have five (5) members consisting of: an academic division chair and one faculty member from a division different from that in which the alleged infraction occurred, one faculty member from the division where the alleged violation occurred, and two students. No member of a hearing panel who has had personal involvement or a special interest in the case may serve on a hearing panel that involves that case. Student panel members will come from the judicial pool as described in the Code of Conduct above.

ADMINISTRATIVE/PANEL HEARING DUTIES AND PROCEDURES – Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity Code
All hearings will be resolved through the following procedure:
1. In panel hearings, one panel member will be elected the chair prior to the hearing.
2. The administrator or panel will be given a copy of all forms, letters, and reports pertaining to the alleged incident. The administrator or panel must guard the rights of all students involved and ensure that due process is followed.
3. A recording will be made of all proceedings, with the exception of the panel deliberations. The recording will be kept for at least 10 calendar days after the case has been heard unless an appeal has been filed. A recorder malfunction will not be grounds for appeal of the sanction. As a backup, the administrator or panel chair may assign another designated person to serve as recording scribe.
4. The complainant and the accused are brought into the room. The administrator or panel chair reviews the hearing procedure and any questions about it.
5. The complainant is asked to present his/her statement. After the statement, questions may be asked by the administrator or panel and the accused student or organization.

6. Other witnesses for the complainant may be called by the complainant to give testimony and answer questions. Following questioning by the complainant, the accused student or organization and the administrator or panel may ask questions. All witnesses may be called at any point thereafter to answer additional questions until the hearing is concluded.

7. The accused student or organization is asked to present his/her statement. After this statement, questions may be asked by the complainant and the administrator and panel.

8. Other witnesses for the accused may be called by the accused to give testimony and answer questions. Following questioning by the accused, the complainant and the administrator or panel may ask questions. All witnesses may be called at any point thereafter to answer additional questions until the hearing is concluded.

9. The complainant is given the opportunity to make a closing statement.

10. The accused is given the opportunity to make a closing statement.

11. After considering all the evidence presented, the administrator or panel will recess to decide on the matter. In Code of Conduct panel hearings, each panel member will vote “responsible” or “not responsible”. In Academic Integrity Code panel hearings, each panel member has one vote; the panel will vote “guilty” or “not guilty”. A majority is needed for a decision. If the defendant(s) is found not responsible or not guilty, the matter will be considered closed. If the defendant(s) is found responsible of a code violation or guilty of an academic integrity violation, the panel will decide on the appropriate sanction.

12. The administrator or panel chair may determine an appropriate time limit for his/her deliberation, and will inform the student or organization of the decision within three (3) business days. An administrative or panel hearing may not take into account previous violations of the Student Code of Conduct or Academic Integrity Code when rendering a decision. Previous violations can be considered in the sanction phase of a hearing.

13. If the accused is found in violation of the incident(s) the administrator or panel will decide on an appropriate sanction, taking care to ensure the sanction is fair and educational for the student or organization.

14. The panel chair or administrator shall provide the director of student life with a written summary of each case. The director shall provide the summary and disposition to the student(s) involved within three (3) workdays of receipt of the summary. Included in the disposition will be information on how to appeal the decision.

15. Once the institutional appeals have been exhausted, the recording of the hearing will be erased. Typed manuscripts transcripts (if any are made) of the recording or a copy of the recording may be provided at the expense of the person making the request.

16. For all hearing decisions, regardless of outcome, the record will be maintained for five years after the student’s graduation or date of last attendance. In cases of organizations, the record will be maintained for five years following the completed sanction. If a student or organization is suspended or expelled, the record is kept indefinitely. All such records will be kept by the director of student life.

Previous Student Conduct or Academic Integrity Cases

The hearing panel or judicial administrative officer may not take into account any previous discipline cases when determining whether the student has violated the code. Such previous discipline cases may be prejudicial against the defendant. If the student is found in violation of the offense, the hearing body may use discipline records from previous hearings as a basis for determining sanctions. If the student volunteers the information regarding any previous disciplinary action such information cannot be considered prejudicial and cannot be used as grounds for an appeal.

- Clearance: An official statement that the student has not been found in violation of a college policy.
- Technique: An official statement that the student has violated the letter of the policy but not its intent.

- Disciplinary Suspension: A fixed period of time during which the student may not participate in academic or other college activities. At the end of the suspension period, the student must be re-admitted to the college. The student will not receive any credit for the semesters during which the suspension is in effect. Suspension will be for at least the duration of the semester.
- Expulsion: Permanent severance with the college. Only under rare and extenuating circumstances will a student be re-admitted.

APPEALS PROCESS – Code of Conduct and Academic Integrity Code

The student(s) will have the right to appeal the decision of the hearing administrative officer or panel to the vice president of student services in Student Code of Conduct cases, and the vice president of academic affairs in Academic Integrity Code cases. Upon the receipt of a decision, a student will have a period of five (5) working days to file an appeal with the appropriate office. Such appeals shall be in writing and cite all reasons for dissatisfaction with the hearing process. Appeals must be based on one of the following circumstances and should be addressed in the written appeal:

A. Procedural errors – when the published procedures of the judicial process were not followed and the error(s) violated the student’s or organization’s rights.

B. Substantive errors – when the evidence presented at the hearing was not sufficient to justify the decision reached or if the sanction(s) imposed is(are) unreasonably harsh based upon the circumstances of the case and the prior record of the student or organization.

C. New evidence – when information, existing at the time of the hearing, was not available or known to exist at the time of the hearing.
If the student continues his/her course of study during the appeals process, he/she understands that any and all work may be null and void if the appellate body upholds the sanction.

The appropriate vice president shall be given a written transcript or summary of the proceedings. The vice president shall, within five (5) working days, appoint a committee of three faculty/staff members for Code of Conduct cases; or two faculty members and one student for Academic Integrity Code cases; or use an existing committee if appropriate. The committee shall review the facts and circumstances of the case. The committee shall within five (5) working days submit a recommendation to the vice president. The appeals committee may recommend overturning the decision of the hearing officer or panel or may modify the sanction. The appeals committee may recommend reducing the sanction but cannot increase the sanction. If the appellate process maintains the sanction without modification, the sanction may be imposed as originally ordered. Once the appeals process is completed, the vice president shall render a decision, within five (5) working days.

A student may appeal the decision of the vice president of student services or academic affairs to the president of the college within five (5) working days of issuance in written form. Once all appeals have been exhausted at the college level a student or organization may appeal in writing to the executive secretary of the Board of Regents. This appeal for review is not a right, but is within the discretion of the Board of Regents.
